* You can find past Stat Packs here: <<https://www.scotusblog.com/reference/statpack/>>. A few matters regarding our methodology are worth mentioning at the outset. First, SCOTUSBlog treats consolidated cases as a single case, as determined by the case with the lowest docket number (prior to the release of an opinion) or the case that is captioned with an opinion. To the extent that two cases are argued separately but later decided with only one opinion, we will remove one of the cases from this Stat Pack, except to include it in the Pace of Grants chart to maintain cross-conference comparisons. The most unusual way we manage those later-consolidated cases is to merge the oral-argument data for the two cases. We combine the questions asked by each justice in the separate oral argument proceedings into one “consolidated” session. Second, this Stat Pack frequently uses the term “merits opinions,” “merits dockets” or “merits cases.” Those three terms are used interchangeably, and signify the set of cases decided “on the merits.” Those cases include signed opinions after oral argument, summary reversals cases decided with per curiam opinions without briefing or oral argument, often to reverse a lower court), and cases decided by an equally divided (4-4) court. Cases that are dismissed as improvidently granted are not included in our tally of merits cases.

Opinions By Sitting

*After oral argument in Knick on October 3, 2018, the Supreme Court ordered new briefing and heard reargument on January 16, 2019. After oral argument in Emulex on April 15, 2019, the court dismissed Emulex as improvidently granted. The court decided Bentek together with Ruchos on June 27, 2019. On June 27, 2019, the justices set Murphy for reargument in October Term 2019.

* For the circuit scorecards only, we treat certain consolidated cases as separate decisions rather than as one. For consolidated cases that stemmed from different lower court decisions, such as the cases consolidated as United States v. Stilt, we counted the cases separately on this table to most accurately reflect the Supreme Court's treatment of the precedents below. For cases that were consolidated in the court below, such as the two petitions from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 4th Circuit in The American Legion v. American Humanist Association and Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission v. AHA, we count the Supreme Court's decision only once. Throughout the rest of the Stat Pack consolidated cases are uniformly treated as a single case.

 For purposes of the Circuit Scorecard, we include as "affirmances" merits opinions that let stand the lower-court opinion, such as Justice Ginsburg's opinion in Virginia House of Delegates v. Bethune-Hill, in which the court held that the appellants lacked standing and dismissed the appeal. Similarly, we include as "reversals" opinions that may in fact only vacate the lower-court decision and remand for further consideration, such as Justice Thomas' opinion in Parker Drilling Management Services, Ltd. v. Neuton.

 The circuit scorecard does not include Emulex v. Varijadian, which was dismissed as improvidently granted. Carpenter v. Murphy is counted under the scorecard for October Term 2019.

Circuit Scorecard

This chart features affirmance and reversal rates for each circuit and each justice. The first number is the number of times a particular justice voted to affirm a decision of the court below and the second number is the number of times that justice voted to vacate or reverse the decision below.

* We treat cases with eight or fewer votes as if they were decided by the full court. For 8-0, 7-1 and 6-2 decisions, we simply assume that the nonparticipating justice would have joined the majority. In cases that are decided 5-3, we look at each case individually to decide whether it was more likely that the nonparticipating justice would join the majority or the dissent. Our assumption that nine justices voted in each case applies only to figures that treat each case as a whole, like the chart above, and not to figures that focus on the behavior of individual justices, like our Justice Agreement charts.

 For cases that are decided by a 5-4 vote, we provide information about whether the majority was made up of the most common conservative bloc (Roberts, Thomas, Alito, Gorsuch and Kavanaugh), the most liberal bloc (Ginsburg, Breyer, Sotomayor and Kagan) along with any of the more conservative justices, or a more uncommon alignment. A conservative lineup is marked with a red square, a liberal lineup is marked with a blue square, and all others are marked with a yellow square.

 For per curiam opinions, we assume that all justices who do not publicly dissent voted with the majority.

Term Index

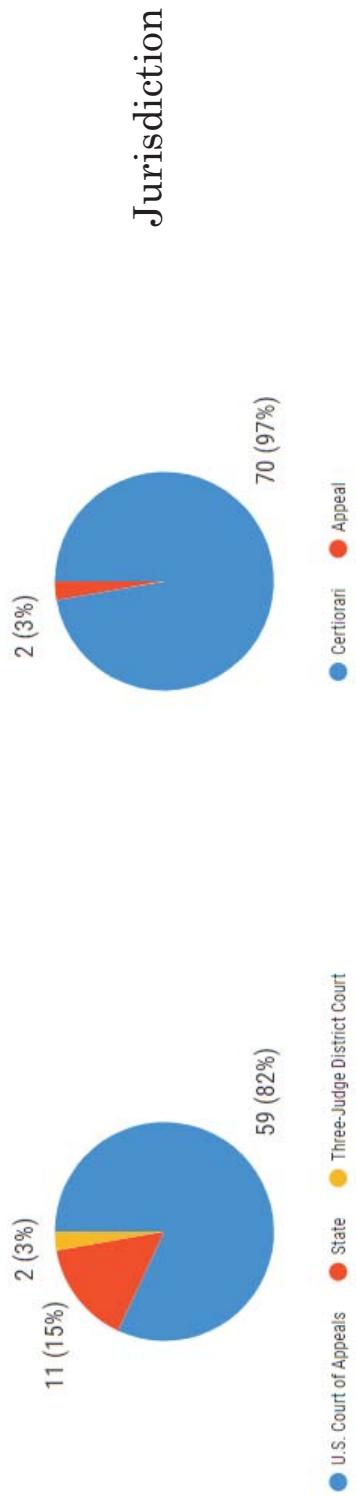

This chart includes a summary of the cases for the term including (1) majority opinion author, (2) vote, (3) days between argument and opinion, (4) judgment, and (5) court below. For each sitting, the chart provides the number of majority opinions written by each justice and the average number of days between argument and opinion for that justice's majority opinions.

Makeup of the Merits Docket

The following charts depict different characteristics of the cases that were released with merits opinions. These charts include information about cases disposed of with signed opinions, summary reversals or affirmances by an equally divided court.

Court Below

Docket

* Technically, all paid and in forma pauperis cases have been on the same docket since 1971, with paid cases beginning each year with case number 1, and IFP cases beginning at number 5001. Original cases remain on a separate docket and follow a separate numbering convention. For more information on the dockets, see Eugene Gressman et al., "Supreme Court Practice" 55–56 (9th ed. 2007).

Total Opinion Authorship

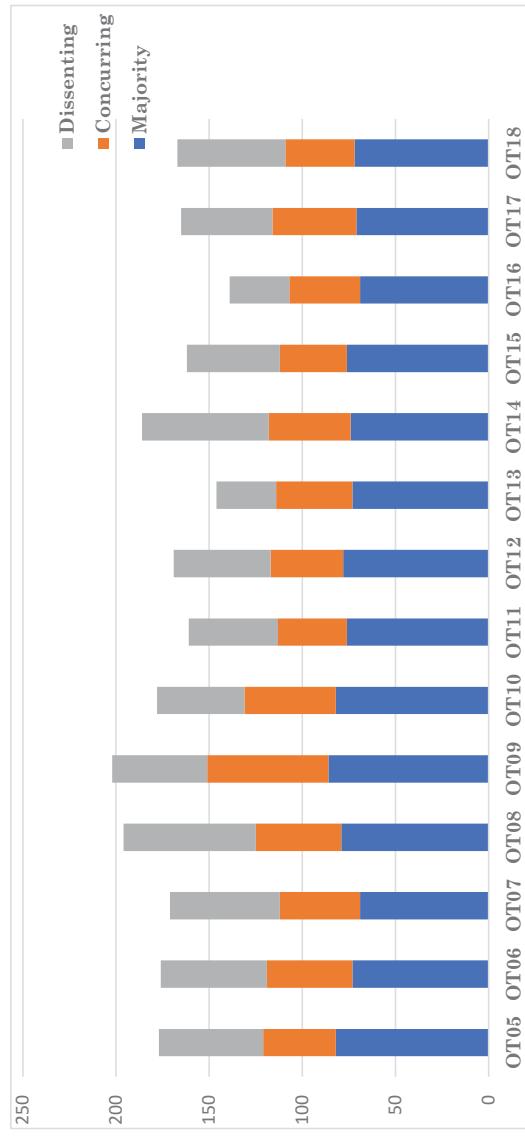

The number of opinions five pages or longer is included in parentheses and represented by the thicker bars in the chart below.
